HOW DO THE PEOPLE STAND?

The often their principles and purposes, their platforms and their candidates, are sidetracked by the manipulations of schemers in conventions. As it may be able to do so, in the future, the Gazette intends to ascertain the people of Texas stand on live issues and in reference to the candidates for office. We will not rely on the orators and oracles for that information, but will go directly to the people.
The most important campaign in Texas since its admission into the Union is just ahead.
The issue is the world-wide battle of the money standard. It is on, and the forces of national reputation are moving forces for the contest.
The issue is closely joined, and the campaign will determine whether Texas will support the gold standard, or whether it will support the silver standard. The result of this election will determine whether Texas will support the gold standard, or whether it will support the silver standard.

A JOHN H. REAGAN CLUB.

HILLSBORO DEMOCRATS ORGANIZE TO HELP HIS INTERESTS.

Hon. Dave Darden, as Temporary Chairman, Tells Why He Supports Reagan—Strong Democratic Resolutions Adopted.

Special Dispatch.

Hillsboro, Tex., June 22.—Pursuant to call of "Democrat" made some days ago through the columns of the city papers, a good sized crowd assembled at the district court room this afternoon at 2 o'clock for the purpose of organizing a Reagan Democratic Central club, and in so doing all honorable things to secure the election of Hon. John H. Reagan to the office of governor. Hon. Dan Darden called the meeting to order and Capt. Harvey Chennault was placed in nomination for temporary chairman, but declined to serve.

Judge Young was next placed in nomination, who also declined to serve. Mr. J. P. Lewis of the Daily Sun then placed Hon. Dave Darden in nomination for temporary chairman and he was unanimously elected and escorted to the stand.

In a thirty-minute speech he accepted the position. Among other things Mr. Darden said:
"I accept the position to which you have elected me with a great deal of pride, because I deem it an honor for any gentleman to represent a Democratic body like this, and I consider it a particularly great honor to represent a Democratic body like this when it has as its main purpose and motive power a person of the grandness and glory of the greatest of our country, a Democrat that ever walked on the soil of the big state of Texas."

"A voice in the audience—'Who is it?'"
"The grand old man," John H. Reagan," (cheers), said he "did not dispute the cause of John H. Reagan because I loved the other candidates less, but because I loved John H. Reagan more."

Mr. Darden arraigned the president and congress severely for perverting the declarations of the national Democratic platform and said:
"I challenge any man in any party who ever heard of any such interpretation of the national platform on the money question until after the election. The Southern Democrats had been clamoring for free and unlimited coinage for years, and when that Chicago platform was adopted they knew that the Democratic party was pledged to free and unlimited coinage of silver, and never dreamed of anything else until after the election, and I defy the world to show me the man who ever heard anything else."

"I am for John H. Reagan because he is the last great man who stood with me," Jefferson Davis said, and he was sentenced to live with him, and I had no other cause for supporting him in this world. I think that is enough. But he is a tried warrior against the money, and has had fifty years' trial in public life, and I am not alone for there is not a man in all of Texas today who is fool enough to announce himself for governor on other than the free silver plank. (Cheers.)

(Cheers.)

On motion the organization was proceeded with. Messrs. J. P. Lewis and C. A. Bridgman were appointed to go through the audience and procure names for members of the club. They secured twenty-five names, and Chairman Darden appointed the following committee on permanent organization: Messrs. Orenbaum, Lewis and Martin. After a few minutes the committee returned and recommended Dr. Eason Knox for permanent chairman and Hon. Dave Darden for permanent secretary. On motion they were unanimously elected.

Mr. J. P. Lewis of the Daily Sun presented the following preamble and resolutions:
Whereas, there has arisen serious, disastrous, desperate and dangerous conditions in the Democratic ranks, some straying off after communism, centralization in government and ruinous financial policies now known as Populists, while others have left the old well-beaten track of their fathers as exemplified in the lives and history of Jefferson, Jackson, Benton and Polk and a host of worthy men, and have chosen to establish and perpetuate this Republican form of government independent of English authority or control or other entangling alliances and have taken to following after other strange gods known as single standard, gold standard, mugwumpism, and adopting Harve Rotchchild's English monetary system, covered up under the ambiguous term of party, for the purpose of alluring the people, calling upon England to help us regulate our financial system on the gold standard, whereby the masses are to be deceived, and establishing a moneyed aristocracy ten times worse than absolute monarchy; when the Hon. John H. Reagan was the only man who had the courage to stand up in the face of the clans and sound the alarm and proclaim the true way in sound money on the basis of gold and silver. Therefore, be it

Resolved, by this mass meeting of Democrats assembled on this, the 22d day of June, 1894, that we endorse the late Democratic platform and administration, the Chicago national platform and every effort of congress and the president to carry out the provisions of that platform as construed by all leading Southern Democrats, and our representatives in congress, and that we favor silver and gold as a basis of coinage, and the coinage of silver on the same terms that gold is now coined, and that we will work for its redemption; that we oppose the single gold standard, as fixed by congress and sanctioned by the president and will oppose the nomination of any man for office who has aligned himself in opposition to free and unlimited coinage of silver, but will cheerfully submit to the wisdom of a majority of the Democratic party.

2. That we now organize a Democratic club in the interest of the candidacy of Hon. John H. Reagan, to be known as the Hill County Central Democratic club. That this club shall use all honorable means to secure the nomination of Hon. John H. Reagan and assist and co-operate with other Democratic clubs in Hill county enrolled for the same purpose, and we will do all that we can to secure instructions for him, the oldest and truest Democrat in Texas.

the man who was in the first Democratic convention ever held in Texas, and the man who fought and worked for Texas when she was overrun by savages, fought for her when hordes disregarded our rights and everywhere, and on all occasions, has stood by Texas Democracy and his country, and that not for self, for today he is as poor as any man.

3. That this convention in mass meeting assembled shall appoint an executive committee composed of one gold and true Democrat from each precinct and voting box in the county who shall form a part of the club and act as an advisory board and organize similar Democratic clubs in their respective precincts.

4. That we approve of the harmony agreed upon by the Matlock and Baker committees, but deny the right of any man or set of men not directly delegated to prescribe platform or principles for the Democratic party.
The resolution was read and unanimously adopted. As these resolutions provide for the appointment of precinct chairmen by the chairman of this central Reagan club, and the chairman was not present, the matter was deferred. Mr. Bridgman thought that since the 1st, John H. Reagan was expected to speak here on Saturday, June 30, that his club should prepare and meet him at the train in the proper style, becoming a man of his dignity and position, and made a motion that this club now adjourn subject to the call of the chairman one day early in next week when this matter could be considered, as well as the district chairman appointed. Motion carried. During the sitting of the club there were probably several-five people in the house, but what they were there for, and what they were doing, as only twenty-five of them became members of the club.

A LYING THREATENED.

A Million, Mo., Wife Missing and the Husband Arrested.

By Associated Press.
Millan, Mo., June 22.—One of the most brutal murders ever committed in Sullivan county is believed to have been committed in this city last night. A. J. Philips went home drunk last night and quarreled with his wife. This morning she was missing and has not yet been found. His little daughter says he hit her mother over the head three or four times. There are blood stains all over the bed covering and a corn knife was found a short distance from the house supposed to be the instrument used in the murder. Philips was arrested and unless his wife is found he will more than likely be lynched. Philips is the fellow who some time ago cut out the tongue of his infant child, causing instant death and narrowly escaped lynching.

THE SMILE OF FORTUNE.

It Means About to Be Cast on a St. Louis Woman.

By Associated Press.
St. Louis, Mo., June 22.—Mrs. Mattie Alexander Robinson of 614 North Beaumont street believes fortune is going to smile upon her at last for she says she is one of the heirs to the Wayne estate at Louisville, Ky., valued at $25,000. According to her story William Wayne had an immense plantation before the war, near Louisville, including the present Cave Hill cemetery. His sons all married rich and he was a millionaire. His son John died about this time and all of it was sold for taxes. However, a lawyer has offered to bring suit for the property. Mrs. Robinson, who says there were three heirs, a son, a daughter and great grand children of William Wayne, is herself an old lady having great grand-children. Her husband is an old river pilot.

A BOY DROWNED.

In a Tank on a Farm Near Italy Friday.

Special Dispatch.
Italy, Tex., June 22.—Last night some young men were bathing in a tank on Mr. A. J. Wright's farm, and after playing in the water for some time one of them became frightened and went to land, declaring that he had passed over a tremendous snake or some large object.

The crowd then found that John Smith, aged 22 years, was missing. Mr. Wright was summoned and in a short time he fished up the body. It was thought he took a cramp and sank, as a short time since he had to leave the water on account of cramps. The young man came here from Mississippi last January.

Joint Debate at Crofton.

Special Dispatch.
Crofton, Tex., June 22.—Hon. C. R. Wharton, Democrat, and Mr. Foster, Populist, candidates for representative, looked here here last night. C. R. Wharton led with one hour's talk, in which he made an eloquent appeal for the Democratic party. Mr. Foster followed in one hour and fifteen minutes' talk, making an earnest appeal for the Populists.
Wharton's reply of fifteen minutes was simply immense. Even Populists acknowledge he made a strong and eloquent talk.
No doubt several men who were in a quandary were convinced that old Democracy still lives.

The Fort Worth Man.

Jefferson Implored: Desires possessing admirable traits, and being a brilliant and deserving young man, Harry comes from good stock, his father being Col. J. L. Camp, commander of the 10th Texas, attached to the late lamented Victor's brigade, and was a gallant soldier in the service of the lost cause. Harry Camp read and practiced law here, and the evidence of superior talent developed in his early practice gave assurance of a bright future record and honorable career in his profession.
